Mrs. Mauk and I boarded the rain at Logan, Ohio, on Wedneslay morning the 5th. of August, with the rain pouring down at a apid rate. It rained the most of the way to Columbus, where we took a train on Penn. R R. for St. Louis, Mo. at 10 a. m. Plenty of rain along the road west. Pasture and tobacco crop looks eplendid, but the potato fields look bad, not more than one-half as many tops as there ought to be, did not come up. But to continue, everything looked flourishing intil we reached the vicinity of Indianapolis where the ground was dry and everything nearly parched up. Corn not more than or 4 feet high and out in tasel, ot as good as the corn on the poorest hills in Hocking county. it continued in that condition until we reached Eastern Illinois, where they have had more rain and everyting looks better.
